

Giving your baby cereal too early increases his chance of developing an allergy or diabetes.

Ask your health care provider the best time and reason to give your baby cereal.